SCHOOL & CAMP EXCURSIONS POLICY

Review: 2022

RATIONALE

To contribute to students' Christian development, the starting point for all curriculum decisions will be the students themselves and their individual needs. Education that seeks to promote integrated personal development relates curriculum content to students' real life situations (Mandate, para 66).

School and camp excursions are opportunities for students to experience learning outside of their normal school environment.

DEFINITIONS

An excursion is any learning activity organised by the school, which is conducted away from the school premises for educational purposes. For the purposes of this policy statement, excursions include but are not restricted to day trips, Catholic school retreats, overnight camps, interstate and international study tours, including immersion programs. There are two types of excursion:

1. Compulsory excursions are considered integral to the educational program (e.g. a class/year retreat, a subject specific requirement).
2. Optional excursions are considered complementary to the educational program (e.g. an overseas language study tour).

Student includes all students, including children and young people and children enrolled in early learning and care services.

Participants includes students, staff, parents, volunteers, facilitators, contractors and others directly involved in the excursion.

Parents includes parents or guardians or carers.

Duty of care refers to the duty imposed by law on a principal to identify reasonable, foreseeable risks of harm in the context of each particular excursion and to take reasonable steps to prevent such harm. The principal's duty of care cannot be delegated to third parties.

OVERVIEW

The general duty of care of a teacher at school that applies while the students are on the premises also applies in relation to an excursion or camp which is organised by the school. The principal should ensure that the proposed programme is safe, that the parents know about it and agree to the proposed arrangements, and there is provision for effective supervision of all participants. No excursion or school camp may be undertaken without the consent of the school principal. The excursion or school camp must be well planned and all details including supervisory staff should be submitted to the principal for approval.

PLANNING

Planning for school and camp excursions shall be in accordance with the School Camps and Excursions – Guidelines for Catholic Schools and will take into consideration:

- the educational purpose of the excursion
- the participating students' capacity to undertake the excursion, including the medical and other requirements of participants and students with special needs.
- assessment of the venue or site for the excursion
- consideration of relevant previous written excursion and incident reports
- the supervisory team attending the excursion, including an appropriate student to adult ratio
- supervision strategies discussed and agreed upon with the participants
- the medical kit required and the appropriate first aid qualifications of staff in attendance
- the responsibilities of staff and participants
- appropriate CrimTrac 100 Point Check Police Clearance and Working with Children Card for supervisors and volunteers
- insurance cover
- appropriate transport arrangements, including drivers' licences
- preparation of students, including advice on developmentally appropriate, personal safety strategies.

PROCEDURES

All matters pertaining to duty of care, consent, supervision, emergency planning, transport, student's matters (insurance/attendance, behaviour, medication, etc) must be in accordance with the Catholic Education Commission of Western Australia policy statement entitled 'School Camps and Excursions' (A copy is available in the Front Office).

All matters pertaining to teacher and student qualifications, safety considerations and equipment, venues and weather conditions for: swimming, surfing, canoeing, outdoor activities and camp, must be in accordance with the publication 'School Camps and Excursions - Guidelines for Catholic Schools'. With regards to supervision, adult:student ratios will vary according to the circumstances and the people involved - factors which should also determine the overall group size. For example, the nature of the activity; the venue; the age and ability of the students; the known behaviour pattern of the group or individuals in it; other variables such as weather conditions: any one or a combination of these factors could lower the student-to-teacher ratio. However, it is recommended that the following ratios be considered:

- Swimming/water safety (pool – with instructor) 1:16
- Open water (raft building) 1:8
- Competitive Swimming (interschool) 1:32
- Excursions 1:12
- Camp 1:10

Where water activities are undertaken at locations supervised by professional staff the above ratios are not applicable. Adequate supervision by teaching staff will be required to maintain duty of care requirements.
